Construction package

Construction package

The construction package includes functions and components that give the truck better off-road manoeuvrability and increased reliability in dusty and dirty environments. The package also includes equipment that improves driver comfort.

With this package the truck will be robust and sturdy and can cope with tough off-road conditions.

The packages have different content for day cab and for sleeper cabs. This to customize the package best to each trucks use.

By gathering everything together in one and the same package, it is easier to order the right specification. What is more, the package price is cheaper than ordering each function by itself.
